Thanks to reviewers

Agradecimento aos revisores

Fernanda Belga Ottoni Porto

Traditionally, the editorial board of e-Oftalmo expresses their gratitude to those who collaborated with it. Along with carefully examining articles submitted for publication, reviewers perform other valuable tasks, such as analyzing the consistency of the content, evaluating the methodology, assessing the presentation of the study, and deliberating on the suitability of its acceptance or rejection. When collaborating for the improvement of a study, reviewers not only criticize and judge the work but also kindly teach and make contributions so that the work can reach its primacy and be finally published.

We want to express our immense gratitude to the counselors who have greatly contributed to the enhancement of the national Ophthalmology as well as the e-Oftalmo in the years 2020 and 2021:
